About me

I've been interested in programming since I was 14. I started with game development and studying algorithms, then became passionate about web development. Over the last two years, I've been actively developing in the field of custom animation websites, focusing on design, quality, and user experience.

I am looking for a long-term job in a serious team where I can apply and further develop my skills.

Key characteristics: passion for the work, responsibility, analytical thinking, discipline, adaptability, and hard work.
